1. Background and Aims

Within the framework of the bilateral programme and project support of the Austrian Development Cooperation (ADC), projects are promoted which sustainably improve the living conditions and development perspectives of the population in developing countries and contribute to poverty reduction. The principles and objectives of international targets such as the Agenda 2030 (Sustainable Development Goals, Addis Ababa Action Agenda and the Busan Partnership for Effective Development Cooperation) are taken into account and all ADA projects shall contribute to their achievement.

The funding instrument “Individual projects - CSO-Co-financing in developing countries” applies to projects in developing countries according to the OECD’s Development Assistance Committee/DAC’s definition which are implemented by development organisations in cooperation with local partner organisations.

2. Legal bases and other bases

- Development Cooperation Act, BGBI. I No. 49/2002 in the current version (DCA)
- Additionally, the Regulation of the Ministry of Finance regarding General Guidelines for the granting of subsidies from federal funds 2014 in the current version (ARR) applies.¹
- Three-Year Programme on Austrian Development Policy in the current version
- General Terms and Conditions of the Austrian Development Agency (ADA) for Development Cooperation Funding in the current version (AVB)
- Guidelines for the Visibility of the Austrian Development Cooperation in the current version

3. Eligible applicants, subject of funding, amount of funding

3.1 Eligibility of applicants

Eligible applicants are development organisations² as defined by clause 3 (2) of the Development Cooperation Act. Individuals are not eligible to apply.

No later than the time of contract preparation the development organisation must have a permanent establishment in Austria.

The projects must be planned and implemented in collaboration with one or more local partner organisation(s) - Civil Society Organisations (CSOs)³ – which is/are registered in the partner country.

Organisations currently implementing a framework programme or a strategic partnership with funding from ADA in Southern Regions are not eligible for funding of individual projects in Southern Regions. Organisations currently implementing a framework programme or a strategic partnership with funding from ADA in Eastern Regions are not eligible for funding of individual projects in Eastern Regions.

¹ Regarding contradictions of the two legal bases the Development Cooperation Act prevails.
² A development organisation is defined by the Federal Act (DCA) as a non-profit legal entity under private law, provided that development cooperation is among its statutory objectives and its de facto operational activities. Institutions which carry out development cooperation as defined by Section 2, Subsection 3, in particular institutions of legally recognised churches and religious communities, regional and local governmental and administrative authorities and bodies governed by public law as well as businesses shall be deemed equivalent to development organisations.
³ In special cases — e.g. if no suitable local NGO or other civil society organisation is available — ministries, local government authorities or other decentralised actors may act as local partners.
3.2. Co-Funded projects

Co-Funded projects aim at poverty reduction, good governance, human security and the preservation of a liveable environment according to the Sustainable Development Goals (SDGs) and the Three-Year Programme on Austrian Development Policy. Thematic foci are rural development, food security, water supply and sanitation, education, human rights and peacebuilding, disaster preparedness, environment and climate change as well as migration and development. Projects must be in accordance with national and local strategies of the respective partner country.

A precondition for eligibility for funding is that

- projects are self-contained and have clearly defined goals
- project activities are implemented in the partner country
- projects are based on an analysis of problems, needs and potentials
- relevant national and local actors are actively involved
- projects aim to strengthen and build capacities of target groups and local project partner organisations
- an adequate risk analysis and measures for risk mitigation are provided
- projects are in accordance with the partner countries’ development plans and ADC principles
- adherence to gender, environmental and social standards is ensured
- project goals are achievable within a minimum of two years and a maximum of three years with the means and measures listed in the project budget
- projects are implemented with a plausible and adequate budget

Funding is not provided for

- projects devised solely for transporting persons or goods to a developing country or projects in which more than 50% of the expenditure are material costs (e.g. procurement of medical equipment and/or construction, including associated personnel costs)
- scholarships or studies and associated travel costs
- individual measures which are not part of, or relevant to, a project (e.g. one-off events).

Funding is available for projects in developing countries as defined by the OECD Development Assistance Committee/DAC:

- Southern Regions: East Africa and Horn of Africa/ Southern Africa/ West Africa, Himalayas/Hindu Kush, Palestinian Territories, Central America
- Eastern Regions: Danube Region/Western Balkans, Black Sea Region / South Caucasus, Central Asia

3.3. Amount of funding

The maximum amount of funding by ADA is EUR 250,000 per individual project.

The total project budget (all financial means for project implementation) must amount to a minimum of EUR 250,000 and should not exceed EUR 500,000.

The funding rate depends on the country in which the project is carried out. In principle, the funding rate is 25% of the total project budget. For certain countries which are listed on the ADA website, the funding rate is up to 65% of the total project budget. (see http://www.entwicklung.at/en/actors/civil-society/).
4. Funding conditions and requirements

Prerequisites for the allocation of funding are that the applicant has a legitimate executive management and the implementation can be assumed to be well-executed based on available technical, economic and administrative capacities. EU state aid law is observed in the allocation of funding.

The applicant must provide a total project budget and a financing plan which fully accounts for all financial means for financing the project as well as the share of financial means contributed by the different financing partners and the applicant’s own funds.

The applicant has to contribute at least 10% of funds to the total project budget. These may comprise the applicant organisation’s own funds, in-kind contributions or contributions from third parties. Contributions from third parties essentially comprise the financial participation of a project partner, donations, sponsorship, and the like.

Funding from third parties (other public funding bodies) is not considered as contributions from third parties; hence, they do not fall under the applicant organisation’s own funds.

If funding is granted, ADA’s general terms and conditions to the Austrian Development Agency Grant Agreement for Support in the Field of Development Cooperation (AVB) in their most recent version apply. The general terms and conditions and model grant agreements are available for download at http://www.entwicklung.at/en/

5. Eligible costs

Only those costs which are directly related to the implementation of the project and for which a proof of expenditure can be provided will be taken into consideration. Costs are to be listed in detail in the project budget by the applicant organisation and may be composed of the following types of expenditure:

Direct project costs
- personnel costs for persons directly involved in project implementation, preferably employing local staff. Only in exceptional and justified cases may Austrian/ international personnel be employed.
- material costs (project material, building and construction costs, vehicles, etc.) up to 50% of the total project cost
- training expenses (for local project staff or target groups)
- equipment, energy costs, communication costs (telephone, Internet, etc.) on site
- expenses for evaluation up to 5% of the total project cost
- expenses for documentation and public awareness raising directly connected with the project in the project country or in Austria (events, publications, etc.) up to 10% of direct project costs
- reserve (provisions for inflation and unforeseen costs) up to 5% of direct project costs

Indirect project costs (overhead costs)

Indirect project costs or overhead costs (PBE) cover administrative expenses of up to 10% of direct project costs (see PBE arrangement in its most recent version at http://www.entwicklung.at/en/).

If all project expenditure (in Austria and abroad) is verified by a state-licensed auditor, the indirect project costs can amount to up to 12% of the direct project costs.

4 All materials should be purchased at the most economic rate possible, not exceeding the current local price. Materials are to be purchased in the project region or country except for resources which are not locally available or only in much poorer quality or at an excessive price.

5 Evaluation is a systematic and objective assessment of an on-going or completed project or programme including its concept, implementation and results. It assesses the relevance and achievement of development goals, efficiency, effectiveness, impact and sustainability.
6. Process of Allocation of Funding

6.1 Submission of funding applications

Funding applications must be submitted via e-mail to ADA. Only complete applications which are submitted on the standard forms and within the prescribed time limit will be considered for appraisal. The funding application may be submitted in German or English. The submission of documents in other languages requires prior consultation with the unit Civil Society International (ZGI). An informative short description of the problem, goals, target groups and activities in German or English must be included in the funding application.

Submission deadlines:

Developing countries in Southern Regions: annually 20 September
Developing countries in Eastern Regions: annually 20 March

The complete, signed funding application must be submitted within the stipulated period (deadline 24:00) via e-mail to ADA’s unit Civil Society International (ZGI):
E-Mail: zivilgesellschaft-international@ada.gv.at

Forms are available for download from the website. The funding application consists of:

- Application form including timetable
- Logical framework
- Project Budget
- Bank data sheet
- Checklists: Environmental Integration, Gender & Social Standards Assessment

6.2 Project Appraisal and Funding Decision

The documents are appraised by a commission according to the criteria listed in section 3.

The commission consists of at least three members. The members are named by the Civil Society International (ZGI) unit. In the constitution of the commission, the members shall be from at least two departments/organisational units within ADA and that there is no hierarchical relationship between them. The commission’s members sign a declaration of impartiality and independence; they must appraise the projects independently; the commission’s members may not be given any instructions regarding their appraisals.

If more than one project application is in line with the criteria listed in section 3, the following selection criteria are applied according to the available budget:

- experience in development cooperation of the applicant organisation
- extent of participation of the local partner(s) in planning and implementing the project (ownership & participation)
- relevance of the project for the target groups
- coordination with other projects and initiatives in the project region
- economic, social and environmental sustainability of the project

Approximately six to eight weeks after the application deadline, a meeting takes place with ADA’s managing director in which the allocation of funding is decided. The managing director decides on the allocation of funding based on the recommendations of the commission. The applicant is informed about the funding decision in written form. In the case of a positive funding decision, a funding contract is made between applicant and ADA.

\[6\] Matrix for planning and control of projects. The planning matrix shows the project goals, how achievement of these goals can be measured and which external factors influence their achievement.
A legal claim towards ADA by the recipient of funding exists only after the contract was signed by both parties.

7. Legal claim

The decision to grant funding is made by ADA exclusively based on the present Funding Guidelines and the availability of budget resources. There is no legal right to funding.

8. Final provisions
